Draw and label a suit of armor

Code of Chivalry
